

Juvenile Justice Inventory Summary Report

- Respondents were asked whether or not they had attended a JJ training with VCE in the past. 100.0% ($n=20$) responded “yes”. 0.0% ($n=20$) responded with “no”.
- Of the respondents that answered “yes” to the previous question, 95.0% ($n=20$) indicated that they increased their knowledge of mental health from the training. 5.0% ($n=20$) responded that they did not increase their knowledge.
- Of those that answered yes to the first question, the respondents were asked how satisfied they were with their training. Their responses were as follows:

	Not at all satisfied	Not very satisfied	Neutral	Somewhat satisfied	Very satisfied
1. How satisfied were you with your training? ($n=20$)	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	40.0%	60.0%

- Respondents were asked to assess their level of skill with regard to recognizing the symptoms of mental illness. Their responses were as follows:

	Not at all skilled	Not very skilled	Neutral	Somewhat skilled	Very skilled
1. How skilled would you say you are at recognizing the symptoms of mental illness? ($n=20$)	0.0%	0.0%	5.0%	45.0%	50.0%

- Respondents were asked to assess their overall level of knowledge with regard to community mental health. Their responses were as follows:

	Not at all knowledgeable	Not very knowledgeable	Neutral	Somewhat knowledgeable	Very knowledgeable
1. What would you say that your overall level of knowledge is with regard to community mental health? ($n=19$)	0.0%	0.0%	10.53%	31.58%	57.89%

- Respondents were asked if they utilize diversion strategies in their practice. 89.47% ($n=19$) responded with “yes”. 10.53% ($n=19$) responded with “no”.